RULES AND REGULATIONS

A. These rules are designed to promote the general welfare of all residents and guests at Pacific Village and shall apply equally to all owners, residents, tenants, and guests. Owners will be required to sign an acknowledgement as to receipt of a copy of the rules and regulations within ten (10) days after receipt of the rules and regulations.

B. Residents shall be held liable for any violation committed by their guests and will be responsible for advising their guests of all the rules.

C. Tenants are bound by the rules, as are resident owners. Owners are required to notify the Management Company of any change of tenancy or change of address of the owner within ten (10) days.

D. All owners and tenants shall complete and return the Association's "Owner Emergency and General Information" form within ten (10) days of receipt. This form must also be updated within ten (10) days of any significant changes.

E. Fines will be assessed against the unit owner. It will be the owners' responsibility to secure repayment from hi tenant or guests. Owners bear the ultimate responsibility for any person visiting or residing in their condominium.

F. Any resident or owner may report a rule violation to the Board of Directors. Loud parties and disputes between neighbors are police matters, and as such, the police should be called when necessary. The Board requests every homeowner to report violations, without your input we cannot properly enforce the Rules that are needed to sustain your enjoyment of community living.

G. It shall be at the discretion of the Board of Directors as to whether a warning or notice of violation is to be issued. Customarily no warning will be given. If a violation is observed or brought to the attention of the Board of Directors, the Board will issue a written warning notice of violation(s) in writing to the unit owner.

H. If a notice of violation is issued, the Board of Directors will assess a fine in accordance with the schedule below. In most cases, if the Board feels the violation is one which every homeowner should know (due to publication in the Rules and Regulations or appropriate mail notification) no warning will be given; a fine will be imposed to force compliance with the rules and regulations. If the offense is a continuing type of violation, fines will be assessed for each violation occurring within a 12-month period of time.

- 1. $50.00
- 2. $75.00
- 3. $100.00

An example of how this would work is; you are found parking in the driveway in violation of our rules. You would get a warning letter about the violation. No problem, this is a warning in case you forgot the rules. During the next 12 months, ANY other vehicle parked improperly would generate a $50.00 fine. A third violation within a year of the first would generate a $75.00 fines.

The Board of Directors does not enjoy assessing fines; but, in many cases it is the only way to get homeowners to obey the rules.

I. Anyone wishing to contest a letter of warning or notice of violation shall abide by the Pacific Village Association By-laws. This means you would appear in front of the Board and explain why you believe you are not in violation of our published Rules and Regulations or CC&Rs. Generally, an appeal must be made in person to the Board of Directors at their next scheduled meeting. Notification of such meeting will be furnished by mail.

KEYS

Each unit is entitled one key that opens the pool gates within the community. Please report lost or stolen keys to the Management Company in writing. Replacements for stolen or lost keys can be obtained from the Management Company for a fee.

ASSOCIATION MEETINGS

The Board of Directors meets monthly on the second Wednesday of the month at 6:30 PM in the Clubhouse. To confirm meeting dates and times contact the Management Company. All owners and residents are invited to attend. Your participation in managing our complex is essential. In the past, complacency of the owners cost our Association over $100,000. Your attendance at the meetings keeps you informed of expenses, plans for repairs and gives you an opportunity to provide your input in how the Association is maintained and managed.

Please contact the Management Company if you have questions about billing. The Board is not in a position to check amounts owed or balances. These issues should be addressed to the management company and will not be addressed at the monthly meetings.

Every homeowner is allowed to inspect the Association records at any time. We encourage each homeowner

Satellite Dish Policy and Guidelines

The purpose of these guidelines is to inform the homeowner and tenants within the Pacific Village Homeowner Association of the requirements related to the installation of miniature satellite dishes and their associated hardware and cabling. Your cooperation and adherence with this policy will ensure a safe, aesthetically pleasing, and compliant installation.

Per a Federal Communications Commission (FCC) ruling, condominium homeowner associations can allow homeowners to install satellite dishes visible from the common area. However, restrictions may be placed on the installation, and the FCC requires that associations establish a satellite dish installation policy. Action can be taken against those home owners who do not comply with the policy. The following restrictions and installation guidelines comply with the FCC ruling and are designed to:

1. Prevent damage to common property within the Association.
2. Prevent damage to property of individual homes.
3. Protect the safety of residents.
4. Maintain the aesthetics and property values within the community.

Following are the restrictions and guidelines:

- A. Installations must be conducted by a qualified professional.
- B. Satellite dishes greater than one meter (approximately 39 inches) are prohibited.
- C. Window screens may not be removed or altered.
- D. Satellite dishes cannot be visible from ground level.
- E. All dishes must be mounted facing the direction required for best reception.
- F. Per our CC&Rs, no wiring may be mounted on the exterior of the unit.
- G. Satellite dishes as well as all other types of antennas can only be mounted on the roof and must be placed on the rear-facing wall of each unit's front bedroom (the raised ceiling of the bedroom above the front door, see Fig. A). Under no circumstances will the antennae be mounted on the flat portion of the roof or the exterior walls of the units.
- H. Cable can only enter a unit at two locations:
 1. Front bedroom/living installations: Cable can only enter at Fig. A.
 2. Rear bedroom/dining room installations: Cable can only enter at the joint between the two rear bedrooms or the middle of the master bedroom (depending on unit layout, see Fig. B and Fig. C). Cable entry points cannot be lower than 14" from the top of the roofline and must be neatly tucked and properly secured to the wall to minimize their visibility.Beyond these two entry points, all cable must run inside the unit to other areas of the unit. This will limit the unsightliness of cables running outside the unit.

- I. Exposed cable must be white or off-white in color. Black cable is strictly prohibited.
- J. Any screws, bolts, nails, or other entry points to the building must be completely sealed with a clear RTV sealant to prevent water intrusion into the unit.
- K. Satellites cannot be installed on the flat roofs. Any damage to the roofs, other common areas, or holes caused from installations will be the responsibility of the homeowner to repair.
- L. Homeowners can be fined and a lien applied to the property as a result of damage to any common area. Any interior damage to a unit as a result of improper installation will be the responsibility of the homeowner to repair.
- M. Homeowners can be charged for repairs required to repair damage to any common area. Failure to voluntarily pay these charges may result in a lien being recorded against the responsible owner's property.
- N. Cables previously attached to satellite receivers or regular TV antennas which are no longer in use and not in compliance with this policy must be removed by the homeowner. Any installation in violation of these provisions will require homeowners to relocate dishes at the owner's expense. If this is not done, the Association is able to remove the dish and bill the owner for the cost incurred in doing so.

If you have questions about this policy, contact the Management Company BEFORE you install any cabling visible outside your unit.

REQUIREMENTS FOR BASEMENT AREA CONVERSIONS ARCHITECTURAL REQUIREMENTS

This policy is adopted in an attempt to provide guidelines for those homeowners who wish to convert the fill space between the garage area and the patio area of their unit. For those of you who are not aware, there is a space between the area constructed for your washer and dryer and the area of the patio outside the front door of your unit. If it is your desire, by following the guidelines below, you may construct a room in this area that may increase the value of your unit by adding additional habitable space to your unit. These guidelines and requirements are being adopted to address what is seen as an “emergency situation.” They are subject to change and revision as deemed necessary by legal representation and in order to comply with State of California provisions. At this point, the Board is unsure of exactly how these additions may impact the cost of the Association insurance and the Board reserves the right to adjust monthly dues of individual homeowners so as to recover any additional costs incurred as a result of these modifications, remodels, and additions.

1. No conversion, addition or remodeling of these spaces shall be done without the approval of the Pacific Village Homeowners Association. Homeowners are advised to contact the City of West Covina to obtain the requirements for the conversion of these areas. The size of the window shall not exceed the minimum size required by city code (at this time 10% of the floor area of the room). Approval may be granted by the Management Company representative, without Board of Director approval, if all of the following conditions are met.
2. All construction of these spaces is considered to be an addition to the unit. As such, City of West Covina building permits must be obtained for all construction, additions and remodeling of these areas. The City of West Covina will require HOA approval prior to approving any construction or alteration of these spaces. Once construction permits are issued by the city, copies must be supplied to the management representative prior to work commencing on the addition or remodeling of the space.
3. Work on converting these spaces shall be done only by licensed and insured contractors who shall meet all the normal requirements of workers and contractors normally hired by the Association. If the Homeowner desires, they may produce all required insurance coverage as required by the Association on their individual Homeowners insurance coverage. This coverage must provide the same policy limitations as required of all companies doing business with the Association as determined by the Management Company.

The Homeowner must provide a release of liability statement to Pacific Village Homeowners Association indemnifying the Association from any and all liens, encumbrances, or damages due to the work being done on the unit. Proof of compliance with liability insurance, Workers Compensation Insurance, and the indemnification shall be provided to the Association prior to any work being begun on these alterations. Any damage arising to adjoining units, including but not limited to flooding, security or structural instability is the responsibility of the Homeowner requesting approval of the conversion of the crawl space.

4. Any construction debris, litter, waste, or trash shall be “swept” from the common areas of the complex at the completion of each workday. At no time shall construction debris, including but not limited to dirt, broken drywall, be washed into the drainage system of the Association. Violation of this prohibition will subject the homeowner to all costs associated with cleaning out the drainage system including the catch basins and sump pumps. Owner will also be held liable for any damage to the sump pump system that is deemed to be reasonably caused by the debris.
5. Any windows located less than 18 inches above any floor, including the patio floor, shall be of tempered glass construction. This provision is added to reduce the Associations liability in the event of accidental injury to persons in the patio area of the unit. Window size shall not exceed sizes set forth by the City of West Covina building code requirements.

PACIFIC VILLAGE
HOMEOWNERS ASSOCIATION

PARKING REGULATIONS

The adoption of these regulations is done to enhance the ability of guests to utilize guest parking when coming to visit residents of our complex. Changes to our regulations have been brought about by complaints from residents regarding abuses to our current regulations.

1. As stated in our Associations CC&Rs, all guest parking is restricted to GUESTS only. Residents must park their vehicles in their garages or on streets outside of the complex. Residents may never park in Guest Parking.
2. Vehicles belonging to all residents of Pacific Village Association complex must be reported to our Management Company representative. Failure to report the vehicle is a violation of our rules and Regulations and will result in the homeowner being fined.
3. Homeowners should notify their tenants and guests that guest parking is for Temporary Use Only. Should a resident have guests visiting for more than 3 (three) consecutive days, they may notify the Management Company with the vehicle make, model, license number and color to gain permission to use guest parking. Such permission may be granted by our management representative for no longer than 10 consecutive days within any 12 (twelve) month period. Any extension of this time period must be approved by the Board of Directors. These guests must park in the Ocean Avenue main lot only.
4. The Association asserts it is a refutable presumption that a vehicle parked in guest parking on more than 3 (three) days within a 7 (seven) day period, is not a guest, but has taken up residency within the complex. Parking regulations will be applied to these vehicles with homeowners first being warned, then, fined as necessary to gain compliance.
5. The driveways within the community are considered fire lanes. They must be kept clear of vehicles as much as possible to enable emergency vehicles to get through without blockages. The Board of Directors understands that residents may occasionally need to park in the driveway for certain purposes and therefore has decided the following:
 - A.) Vehicles may be parked in the driveways in the front of the unit garage only for the immediate loading and unloading of the vehicle.
 - B.) Residents may park here for the purpose of washing the vehicle.
 - C.) Residents may park here while actually in the process of cleaning the garage area.
 - D.) Repair vehicles (plumbers, carpet cleaners, etc.) may park in the driveways only when reasonably necessary to accomplish the job at hand.

Any vehicles parked in this manner must have a driver present to move the vehicle if necessary.

Homeowners are reminded they are responsible for violations committed by their guests, whether the homeowner is aware of the violation or not. If you have questions regarding this policy contact the Management Company or contact a member of the Board of Directors.

First violation of these rules is cause for a warning letter, with each violation after the first is subject to increasing fines. You will notice all of our rules and regulations indicate they are enforceable with fines. The Board of Directors does not like to fine owners, but since we live with 65 different owners and your violation of the Rules impact others, it is the only way for us to make community living enjoyable for all.
